

The Personal Data Protection Act

This course provides a comprehensive understanding of Singapore's PDPA, the role of Singapore's data protection authority, the Personal Data Protection Commission, and related topics such as cross-border transfers of personal data, enforcement of the PDPA and protection of personal data under other Singapore laws. It covers the nine main data protection obligations under the PDPA, Do Not Call requirements and an overview of recent amendments to the PDPA. This course is essential for anyone who wishes to develop a good understanding of the requirements of the PDPA and the data protection obligations of organisations. This course complements our course on Data Protection Management and Compliance.

Course Details

Course Code: DP1005A
Course Title: The Personal Data Protection Act
Course Duration: 2 days (approximately 14 contact hours)
Available Dates: 20 – 21 January 2022
Please enquire for additional dates
Course Fee: S$2,500.00 (Successful completion of this course will entitle you to a 20% discount on the DPO Course)

You may register for this course online by clicking here. Alternatively, you may fill in your contact details in the form below and email it to academy@drewnapier.com or fax it to: +65 6535 4864. Please note that your registration is subject to full payment of the course fee and our confirmation of your successful registration. Upon submission of your registration form, we will inform you of the available modes of payment. We reserve the right to postpone or cancel this course, in which case, you will only be entitled to a refund of any course fee paid. Terms and conditions apply.

Name: (Prof/Dr/Mr/Mrs/Ms) _____ Designation: _____

Organisation: _____

Address: _____

Email Address: _____ Tel: _____

The Personal Data Protection Act

Schedule

Day 1

1. Introduction to Cybersecurity Law, Regulation and Compliance
2. Development of Data Protection Law in Singapore
3. Scope of the PDPA
4. Key Concepts and Practices (Part 1)
5. Key Concepts and Practices (Part 2)

Day 2

1. Data Protection Law on specific topics
2. Do Not Call Provisions
3. Sectoral Laws and Regulations
4. Enforcement
5. Legislative Changes

Who should attend?

This course is aimed at individuals who wish to develop a deeper understanding of data protection law, governance and management, including:

- Data Protection Officers (DPOs) and compliance professionals
- Privacy, data protection and corporate counsels
- Executives, managers and staff involved in the collection, use and management of personal data and/or other personal data activities
- IT and cybersecurity professionals
- HR professionals

Course Director

David N. Alfred

Before joining Drew & Napier, David was Chief Counsel of the Personal Data Protection Commission (PDPC), a role he held since 2013. David advised the PDPC on all its legal affairs including the administration, application and enforcement of Singapore's Personal Data Protection Act 2012 (PDPA), legal policy and development, and cross-border legal issues relating to data protection. Prior to his role with the PDPC, David was Deputy General Counsel with the Info-communications Development Authority of Singapore (IDA), the predecessor of the current Info-communications Media Development Authority, where he was a core member of the team that advised on Singapore's data protection policy and oversaw the development of the PDPA (amongst other matters).

A senior lawyer with more than 20 years of experience, David is an analytical and strategic thinker who brings with him a deep wealth of knowledge and substantial expertise in laws and regulations relating to data protection, digital technology, international telecommunications and the Internet. David holds LLB and LLM degrees from the National University of Singapore, an MBA from the University of Chicago and the CIPP/A, CIPM and CIPT certifications. He has been designated a Fellow of Information Privacy by the International Association of Privacy Professionals.