ABOUT SHU MEI

Shu Mei is a sought-after advocate, international speaker, and a trusted advisor to the modern family.

With a niche practice in private client and family disputes, Shu Mei appears regularly as advocate at all levels of the Singapore Courts on all matters affecting the family including division of matrimonial assets, maintenance, family violence, complex custody and international relocation, as well as trust and property disputes.

As an accredited mediator and an accredited Collaborative Family Practitioner, she strives to find common ground even in the most complex of cases in negotiations and mediations, whether as an advocate or a neutral.

She has particular expertise drafting and negotiating prenuptial, postnuptial, financial arrangement and parenting agreements between family members.

Shu Mei has been appointed to the Board of Governors of the International Academy of Family Lawyers (IAFL) as an Asia Pacific Chapter Delegate in 2023. She was appointed a Fellow of the International Academy of Family Lawyers (IAFL) in 2021. IAFL is a worldwide association of practicing lawyers who are recognized by their peers as the most experienced family law specialists in their respective countries.

She has provided legal expert opinions to assist the High Court of England and Wales, the High Court of Bombay, the Federal Court of Australia and the Family Courts of New Zealand.

Shu Mei is also a Certified Digital Assets Advisor (CDAA) and has used her knowledge and expertise to resolve complex family disputes involving uncovering cryptocurrency and other forms of digital assets.

Shu Mei's formative experience is rooted in commercial litigation and international arbitrations, and she has acted for corporations under SIAC, ICC, CIETAC, UNCITRAL and DIAC rules and is a member of the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators.

Shu Mei also speaks regularly about family law, private wealth, valuation of businesses, dispute resolution and mediation at local and international conferences.

She is also the co-author of various academic articles and practitioner guides both locally and internationally.

EXPERIENCE

Contentious matrimonial and private client proceedings

- Acting for an UHNW individual, the Husband in potential divorce proceedings, against the Wife, another UHNW individual, wherein the parties collectively have a net worth exceeding US$1 billion including assets held under a Cayman Islands Trust, of which the Husband is the Settlor, and the beneficiaries include the Wife, the child of the marriage, as well as other charitable organisations.
- Successfully acting for a Wife to obtain a Worldwide Freezing Order over assets worth approximately $40 million, in order to prevent dissipation of matrimonial assets by the Husband.

- Successfully obtained a return order of a minor child after an international child abduction from Singapore to India.
- Successfully obtained personal protection orders for survivors of domestic violence, including psychological violence.
- Represented a Father in a long-running High Court case over a minor child wherein complex psychiatric and psychological evidence was admitted successfully to prove a case of parental alienation, resulting in the successful reunification between father and child after 8 years of estrangement.
- Successfully obtaining an injunction against a Father for attempted international child abduction in a highly contentious international divorce involving 3 minors, including obtaining an order for the psychiatric and medical examination of him.
- Acting in complex family proceedings involving psychological-legal elements regarding the international unlawful abduction of a child from Singapore to UK by the Mother, and then, an application for the proposed relocation of the child by the Mother during COVID-19 pandemic against governmental travel advisories, leading to an eventual expedited application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal (reported in UYK v UYJ [2020] SGHCF 8)
- Acting for a Mother in a complex family proceedings involving psychological-legal elements regarding the application of the international relocation of a child from Singapore to India, by the Father, the non-primary caregiver in the midst of COVID-19, leading to an eventual application for leave to appeal to the appellate division of the High Court (reported in VPG v VPF [2021] SGHCR 18)
- Acting in a highly contested dispute between co-deputies of a person who lacks mental capacity under the Mental Capacity Act, and successfully obtained Orders regarding the discharge of a co-deputy on the ground of abdication of duties.

Advisory work

- Representing an American client in the negotiation of a Pre-nuptial Agreement, who was to marry into a family owning substantial assets including one of the largest chemical manufacturing companies in China (worth more than US$200 million), requiring significant coordination between lawyers in Singapore, United States of America (California), People's Republic of China and Canada to ensure that the Pre-nuptial Agreement entered into would be binding and enforceable in a divorce proceeding, if not at least given substantial weight in these jurisdictions.
- Representing a Singaporean client in a negotiation of a Pre-nuptial Agreement, who was to marry into one of the wealthiest families in the Philippines, the shareholders and management of one of the Philippines' largest publicly traded holding companies (net worth more than US$2 billion), and where majority of the assets which may be in dispute may be held by trust.
- Representing a British client in a negotiation of a Pre-nuptial Agreement involving English and Singapore laws, marrying into a family who owns and manages one of the world's largest carriers, and addition, whose fiancé would also be a beneficiary to a trust which value was in the range of US $300 million.
- Advising a patriarch with net worth of over $5 billion regarding inter-related family law, private wealth and trust issues for 3 generations, and setting up various legal agreements and structures in place in order to protect family assets in the event of divorce, mental incapacity or death.
- Advising and Acting for various private and higher education institutions in Singapore regarding their policies as regards children from atypical family backgrounds (adoptive, divorcing, separating etc.), highly contentious family backgrounds, including drafting various policies on child abuse, drugs, counselling, bullying, child's rights (under the United Nations Convention of the Rights of the Child), including dealing with allegations of negligence.
